of course I do... simple it down a bit and think of like a puppy or kitten, there can very easily be love at first sight both ways there ;)

every time i have felt like I fall in love at first sight it turns out horrible..so no i do not believe in love at firs sight..

to love someone u have to be with them for a while and really get to know them

No doubt.

The ones that I felt like that for right away, ended terribly and the ones that start off really bad are the ones that stuck around (but happily!)
